

The roadways, railways, and waterways that crisscross the nation are the backbone of society. Congresswoman Matsui believes that it is imperative to maintain and improve these thoroughfares to secure a safe, thriving future for the people of the Sacramento region. Investing in infrastructure projects has historically proven to stimulate the economy and generate good jobs for hard-working Sacramentans. Making those projects green projects, and creating more options for alternatives to auto travel, will reduce congestion on California's roads, reduce air pollution, and contribute to a more sustainable future.

Congresswoman Matsui is committed to the alliance of federal, state, and local agencies that have come together to build and grow Sacramento's transportation plan. The Sacramento Region Blueprint, enacted by the Sacramento Area Council of Governments (SACOG) promotes compact, mixed-use development and more transit choices as an alternative to low density development. The Blueprint recently celebrate their 5 year anniversary, click here for more details about how the region is progressing.
